“ Hi mommy,

How I miss you! I try to talk to you everyday on the way to and from work but it is just not the same. I miss hearing your voice and your laugh. There's not a day that goes by without seeing or hearing something that reminds me of you. Everyday I take comfort in knowing that you're with papa telling him stories about us and your grandchildren. I know that you and papa are watching over us. By the way, I will definitely miss watching your favorite game shows and soap operas with you when I am in Oregon this summer.

*I'll love you forever,
I'll like you always,
As long as I'm living, my mummy you'll be!*

*I will always remember and love you!
Forever in my heart!*

*Loving daughter,
Lilette*

“ Hi mummy, I'm feeling very sad today and I have a heavy heart, been crying thinking about you. I went to the cemetery and put some flowers on your grave and papa's. I hope you are enjoying each other's company and are both happy. I try to keep busy but the sadness and heartache creep in-between some days worse than others. I miss you so very much and I will never forget you. I love you mummy. May your soul rest in peace. Thank you for being the best mother ever. I will see you again one day. Love you always. Your loving daughter Lydia.

“ Dear Auntie Carline, the first message i tried to send didn't go through. So i will try again. I was deeply saddened to receive the news that you had passed. I was filled with so much emotions and memories of the wonderful times we used to share whenever we would travel to the USA, especially on the last trip where you met our girls they really enjoyed meeting you. Even though there was great distance and ocean bewteen us you were always in my heart there was never a day that went by that i did not think of you. You are one of my best Aunties and will always hold a special place in my heart. I miss you so much and i only hope that your journey isn't over and your soul is a nuturing soul and will forever have a place in God's heart. Your love will live on forever in your family. May your soul rest in peace. Love you forever, your loving niece Jane, Dennis, Mikayla and Cheyanne

“ Dear Aunty Carline,

It has hurt all of us to know that you have left us. Broken hearted as I am but I know that God needed you to come home. I can clearly remember when I was still young, we used to go to the La Misère feast and afterwards we would always come to your place to spend the day with you and family. We were always welcomed with open arms. Even though your distance did not permit us to communicate as often, I always had a special place for you in my heart. I know in my heart that you are now in a better place. But I will surely miss the talks we used to have not forgetting all the stories that made us laugh. You will always be remembered every single day, from the smile on your face to the things you would say.

You have taken your place in heaven where you belong, right up there with Phillippe, Harry and my mum. Yes we all know that we need to be strong, but through your family your memory will live on. While you were here you did your job, you did your part to keep the family together, that's why you will remain in our hearts always and forever.

May your good soul rest in peace Aunty.

From loving niece Lyndia and children.

“ *May the good memories sustain the family during this difficult time. I remember her and your Dad when we lived at La Misere, always a gentle soul, her passionate love for her family, she loved my little boys at the time. The first time I had met my Aunty Carline was when I came to America for a holiday, she had a generous heart and soul and even though I hadn't travelled quite as often as I would I was always thinking of her.
