“ Brent and Emma,

My goodness, I don't know what led me to look up sweet Claire. I haven't seen her (or any of you) in over 20 years. But something did, and it brought me to this page. I have no words to express how sad and sorrowful I am. She was my favorite little human and it looks like she turned into a spectacular woman. Please accept my deepest sympathies. You're in my thoughts.

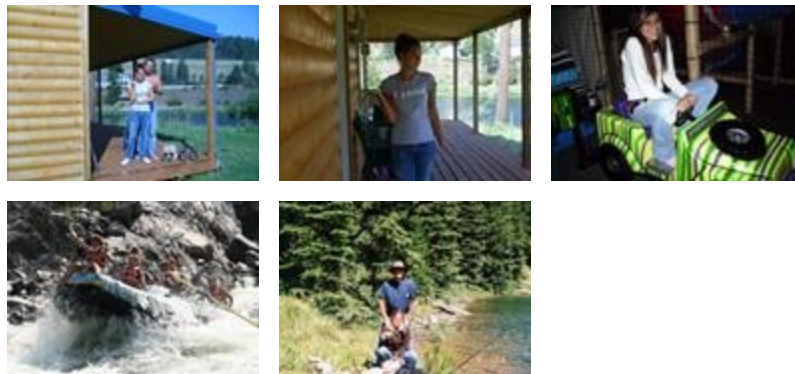

*With much love,

“ I honestly don't know where to start. My mind is scrambled. You've been my best friend since high school. I will forever miss our hour plus long phone conversations where we'd laugh till we cried. It was like we never parted. Distance never changed our friendship our bond was to strong. We always knew we'd be life long friends. You've been my person since day one. Your heart was pure gold. Most of my favorite memories are with you and your family. You will forever live in my heart. Rest In Peace my sweet angel. I can't wait to see you again and hug you.

“ I met you when I was still in diapers.. you were my other half, I was the sister you never had. I got the privilege of spending time with you almost every day after school growing up and would still talk on the phone for hours after we got home. We were those friends that were supposed to grow old together and be weirdos in the nursing home... We always stayed in contact no matter where we went, always had plans and I would never tire of you.. I enjoying every adventure growing up, Even if it was just our most recent half-off sushi dates at momiji at booth number two because that was our favorite number (in which we both laughed at the reference). We understood each other more than anything, could talk for hours to this day and never run out of something to say. The similarities and connections were vast.. even down to the same sized feet. I still have all the hand written letters we would write in school, even the one where we gave each other hippie names: you were Love Bear and I was Sunshine... I always saw your light in your darkest hour and you always knew how to make me laugh when I was in mine. We had so many plans coming up.. we even had our favorite candy ready for another painting sesh. Your momma and I are going to get the tattoo we were going to get and I'll to finish some of the projects you wanted to do... I could go on an on about how much I miss you and how much I wish we could fulfill our plans.. I'm just glad that I told you I loved you every time we spoke or I saw you.. I'm glad you found what true love is through my baby nephew, I know it was something that you had saught to feel. Thank you for being you Love Bear..thank you for being that friend that some people will search for a lifetime to find.

You took a piece of my heart by the way, so I'll need it back when I see you again.
