In his last few years he lived in Sherwood, Oregon with his wife Toni and family.

Camping, fishing, and playing poker with his buddies were all things he enjoyed doing, but his true passion was for trucks and motorcycles. John was a "gear-head."

“ John was a long time friend of my dads, and we ended up neighbors when I was about 5yrs old. I was over there all the time hanging out with his step daughter and remember he was always out in the garage drinking with my dad. I'll always remember all of our camping trips our families took to the crawdad hole. He was usually pretty quiet until he was around my dad, he always managed to break him out of his shell. My most recent memory tho was a few years ago when my dad had me come to Eugene to help them on a movie theater job and John was still as quiet as could be and so serious, but then he'd crack a joke once in a while. He was a great guy who will be dearly missed.

“ My memory is when John came out on the deck to talk to me. He asked if he could marry my daughter Toni'. I was surprised and started to joke with him. He in turn was so serious. We sat out there and talked about things and them. He talked more then he ever did. Sure Made me feel good how he felt about Toni and our family. I've got lots of great memories and wanted to make more.
Love you John

“ Remembering John I think about a man that brought out the best in my lil'sis. He was the one person that she was fully at ease with. It was easy to see that his love for her was genuine, as was her love for him. I am proud to call him my brother-in-law. Godspeed John.

“ John was one of the nicest guys I knew. Although he was quiet, he would do anything to help whomever needed it. He was the type of guy to give the shirt off his back. I was heartbroken when I heard that he lost his battle; however, he was a fighter, a warrior. He fought like hell to beat Cancer, but never complained.

My condolences and deepest sympathy as you go through this difficult journey. Praying that you find peace and comfort knowing he is no longer suffering.

Love to you all,
Cricket
