We were privileged to have Marlena as our caregiver the since May of last year. She was like family, she was real, authentic, a giver of light and hope despite the trials in her own life, a caring person who cried because of your pain, prayed with you AND for you, was always willing to help, encourage, and stand with you when you needed her. She would share the things that brought JOY to her life, a walk in the morning, seeing a rainbow, singing, her faith, getting her port out, new flooring, a car, or even having long hair again. She lived each day to the fullest and let her light shine on everyone she met. We all are going to miss that beacon of light touching and enriching our lives.

Our times of visiting, taking her out to lunch during a stressful time.

I had the privilege of taking her to a couple of her oncologist appointments.

Phone calls being there to listen.

Oh, the memories of shopping trips with her, especially to Barnes n Noble.

She was gifted musically and it was great to hear her sing at Church.

Marlena, you will be missed and we have this hope of the coming of the Lord!
